Following a surge of appeals across Kent to help schools struggling to find the right equipment they need for their pupils during home-schooling, Woodley Coles wanted to see what we could do.

Since then, we have successfully delivered a bundle of Kindle Fire Tablets to Capel-le-Ferne Primary School to ensure more children have access to equipment that will enable them to stay ahead in their education.

We hope this made bringing education into the home much easier for some families, giving children that additional support with home-learning.
